PORTLAND, MONDAY, JULY 4, 1885. THE NEW YORK APPOINTMENTS

The city of New York is, in a large sense, the political as well as the financial head of the country. In the politics of New York, therefore, a great deal of interest is taken by the country at large. An important incident always in the politics of the city and state of New York. is the disposition made of the principal offices, and especially those of the custom house. The prominence of these offices, too, realers the policy of an administration in regard to them: a matter of importance, since the manner in which they are filled in justly taken as inaterial for judgment upon the administration itself.

If the utterances of the press afford any kind of hasis for judgment the action of President cleveland in the matter of the recent appointments at New York cannot be regarded as judy clous from any point of view. The appointments are, in fact, criticised by journals of all shades of politics, and by none more sharply than by hose known as the most active sup porters of the administration. 12 the new culector, Edward L. Hedden, the New York World, metropolis, says: "His name is not familiar to the democratic masses either as an efficient organizer, an active worker at the polls or a potent political speaker. No one in Hedden rendered in winning the victors which gives the important office he is now to fill into say of him is that he is: "spoken of favorably tip a number of our leading merchants and ship-pers." Scant praise, indeed! Of Silas W. Burt, who is appointed naval officer, the World says: who is appointed naval officer, the World says:

"He was for years one of the most vigorous anis aggressive of his faction of the republican party, and if a republican candidate for the precidency other than Mr. Blaine had been nominated last year and elected Burt would have commanded whetever position he might have desired as a reward." The conclusion of the "World is that "if the appointments strengthen the democracy in the state it will not be because of any anthusiasm they were in not be because of any enthusiasm they excite in the ranks of the part.

The next witness is the mugwump Times, the most earnest and thorough supporter of the administration among the duly papers of the city. it anys: "The president has made Mr. Hedden the collector of the port of New York. This puts upon Mr. Hedden the task of justifying the itself. It is an appointment which be criticised more severely than any other the president has made." Mr. Hedden used to aldifficult function usually discharged, for house, which dispense with the convenient intermedia tion of a cusion bosse broker, by a clerk re-ceiving from $1.400 to $1.500 a year. This gives use our first measure of Mr. Hedden's abilities? Finally, the Times puterblin down as "a man not only air est unknown to the business community of the city, and absolutely uni heard of ontside New Lora, but so far as he is known, a man who represents Mr. Hubert O. Thompson and nothing else."

Thompson and nothing clea."

All the journals, in fact, speak of Hadden as merely a ferure-head for Thompson, who is the democratic boss and ciachine manager of the city and state, and who will "run" the office, ontrol its patronage and use its influence strictly in the interest of partisan schemes Hedden, in short, is Thompson's "man." Such is the testimony of the entire press of New York. It is said that Secretaries Manning and Whitney urged the president to appoint Thomp-son himself to the office, and to take the responsibility, with its consequences, but that, he thought, would be going a step too far, and so he authorized Thompson to name the appointee.
The Sun says: "We tender our cordial congratulations to Hon, Habert Thompson. other names he was appointed yesterday by the precident to control the New York custom house. Yet we would rather have seen him appointed under his own name."

The Tribune is strongly republican and might. be expected to criticise, but after such testimony has been given by the other journals, the Tribene's animadversions will appear huch more to the purpose than they would if standing alone. ne many things during his short term of office which merit severe consure, but none which ought to be more sharply rebuked than his choice of a collector of the port of New York. In no other instance has he used the public service more openly to repay obligations incurred se a presidential candidate." Further, the Tribone says, as the other papers do, that "Hedden is known only as the tool of Hurbert O. Thomps son," and that the president has appointed him "simply because he was Thompson's choice," and because 'the president was indebted to this pasavory bees for the nomination at Chicago. Of course this proceeding is destined to make administration. The presence thas said high the public service ought newly to be used to reward party service, and further, that offices ought not to be filled with a view to "working" diese for partisan results. It is not computed that he has appointed democrats. That was to be ex-has appointed democratic. That was to be expected. But it is proper to point out the fact that be has, in violation of his own professions almost uniformly made his selections with a dew to getting "party workers" into official places. Even the the New York Troos, which has hitherto been the line-and-thin organ of the administration says: "If it is the president's purpose to reorganize the customs service in this city and to put it u for a reform basis, we cannot conceive how a terson of Mr. Hedden's calibre, anteredents and alliances can materially assist him in the exception of that purpose. It assist him is the excated of that purpose. It is to be feared rather that the president will have occasion before the full campaign is over to put a restraining hand upon the political zeal of some of the cusions servants in this city, and to cudged away from the public trough, under the respectable Mr. Hedden's very eyes, some naworthy and most off-plaire parhisand." But who believes he will he is?

The various per many paper, which is the charch organ, has been arrosted, and is like-ig to be convicted and imprisoned, for polyro-ney. It is graffying indeed, to learn that to om the Pourth of July is become a hallmockery. Every decent man and woman in the civiliant world will rejoice with igal gratitude at the al-mission at last forced from Mormon chiefs, to wit: That the Mormois must flee from the country, abandon their surplus whes, or go to the positionitary. The signouse court's latest decision, that proof of countilation is not essential but that the fact of a man living regularly ander the same roof with two or more-wannen, is sufficient to convict, has knocked the last prop from under the infamous structure which po-

The New York World is to be congratulated on its boble work, now nearing an end, of raising a fund to erect a base-on which to place the Barthold statute. One hundred thousand dollars was the sum which the World started out to collect. It believed it could get it by appearance to the status of t to collect. It believed it could get it up appearing to the people for small sums. The result has justified its faith. The fund now stands above $90,000, with every prospect that the remainder will soon be had. The contributors already number over 100,000. The World's achievement is a very fine one. Only a newspanner of the steblestical and interestigating condiper of big circulation and intense vitatity could meeting of the council will be held to-night to inaughtate the 1 ew city government. Mr. John Gates (straight republican) succeeds Dr. 3. C. Chapmon (democratic-independent) as mayor, J. J. Gallagher, (democrat) succeeds Joseph Smith, (democrat) as member of the council from the first succeeds Joseph Smith, (democrat) as member of the council from the first succeeds Joseph Smith, (democrat,) as member of the council from the first ward; S. Farrell, (republican,) succeeds W. A. Scoggin, (democrat,) from the second ward and Frank Hacheney, (republican,) succeeds Wr. W. H. Adams, (republican,) from lows: remulalcans fve, democrats four, and this majority with the mayor makes the curgovernment in its legislative and executive branches entirely republican.

The recent election was a straight party con test. Aftempts to put i' upon personal and local issues failed. Mossis, Gates. Farrell and Hacheney were elected because they were republicans, and Mr. Saliagher was elected by cause he was a democrat. It was the general understanding that the election was of great political significance, and with this idea in mind the victory and the control of affairs was given to the republicans. The present party situation imposes an additions, responsibility upon the new administration. In it almost as much as in the state government, the republican party is on trian before the people. Let the republican majority in the council and let the major look to their trust. Let them remember that the way to secure favor, the way to succeed, is to darright. Lot them purify the city government of whatever has stood in the way of honest ad-ministration in the past and of whatever may be an obstacle in the future. Let them throw notions of expediency to the winds and let them strive to give the city a clean and inexpensive management without fear or favor. There appears to be on the part of newcomers and, strangely, on the part of the press outside of Portland, a radical misunderstanding concerning the political responsibility of the retiring administration. Indeed, it has of late been quite commonly spoken of by the state press as a republican administration. The facts are as follows: Three years ago Mr. D. P. Thompson was named by the republican nom-inating convention for the mayoraty. He was opposed by an element of the republican party, which joined with the democrats, nomhated and elected Dr. Changing. Three-fourths of Chapman's support was de norratic. The misunderstanding grows out of the fact that Chapman for a few years preceding his last election to the mayoralty was associated with the republican party. He was for many years a democrat, and belonged to that party by all the laws of natural selection.

Although the council meeting oning: it is par-ticularly for the installment of the new administration, it may be devoted largely to general business. Among other matters, the orlinance making a reddetion in the police force is likely to come up for final consideration. There is reason to fear that its real intent is to provide a way for the dismissal of certain exprovide a way for the identifies of certain ex-cellent men so that their piezes may be given to supporters and tools of the ring. So far as the proposition is an economical insasure, it is highly proper. The police force is too large, unquestionably; but there must be no attempt to make use of the fry of economy to gain countenance and favor for a ring job. The ordi-nance should be so uncluded that the vacancies to be created shall be permanent. It will not to be created shall be permanent. It will not do to pentione the intriduction of a protective clause till after the original ordinance is passed. The protection should be a feature of the original ordinance and Founcilman Philinear or some other of the few metabors who can always be relied upon to do the thing that is houses, should see to it!

Two of the most projningnt figures in the lisfor on the most proposed agrees in the inter-tory of modern times here how gasting away (queral Grant and Emperor William I, of Gor-many; and a curious contrast is afforded by the difference in their surroundings. An occasional confused report is all that can be learned of the riyal patient, and every effort is brade to hide the melancholy fact from the people, through fear of its possible influence on European pull-tics. Reports are made of failing strength and then as promptly contradicted. The old man is put or horseback to review Props and although he tumbles off nearly every time, the ceremony goes/on regularly, and an effort is made to make him appear in physical health. With our own patient all is different. His every move-ment, the fluctuations of his pulse, and almost every word he utters, are heruided throughout the length and breadth of the laid as soon as made or ottored. The people book on with af-fection, and wait silently for the and to come. No change of polecy in our government will be made necessary when he dies, for the people arr the rulers here, and he is simply one of us.

The strike of the street-car employee in Calcago seems to have been entirely justifiable. They gave notice that they would strike unless certain conductors, who had been dismissed, certain romainers, with had been dismissed, chould be relievated. These conductors were discharged simply because they had presented a position to the company representing the griev-ances of the employer. Such a strike is justi-fiable, because when corporations become so arbitrary and insolent as to discharge persons clearer exposure of the hypocrisy of, the administration. The president has said that the public service ought never to be used to reward north service, and further that others and that the limits are the public service and further that others are the public service. Hon, B. Hermann, representable in congress, is notified that he has at his disposal the nomination of a young man for a cade/shin at West Point, to succeed Mr. E. C. Brooks, who graduates this year. Mr. Hepmann thinks it graduates this year. Ar. Bermann tranks in would be more satisfact by to open the place to colopetitive effort, and at his request ex-Senator Kelly, Prof. Prati and Ibr. Canyon'tly News: A new settler in Hurney vailer, Monday of last week book his pistel and went out to shoot rabbits. As he was walking along through the sage brush, he noticed that the bandle on the pistel was loose, and he attempted to acrew it up. While thus sungged he peducid the muzzle towards his body and by some accident the queod was discharged, the ball entering the abdomen, and indicting a fatal wound. The man lingered in great pain until the serabing of the next day, when he died, and on Wednesday was burned in the Burns cametery.

Ashiand Tidings: An Indian handing freight between Ashland and Fort Klamath met with a dissatrous accident while going down the mountain near Spencer's last Thursday. Being hearily leaded, he field a tree behind his wagon and paid no attention to any other brake. When he ily baded, he fied a tree behind his wagon and paid no attention to any other brake. When he was part way down, the rope with which the free was fied wore off and let the wagon's full weight, strike the team. A frightful runaway was the result. At the foot of the mountain the team undertook to "straddle" a big tree, and the flying hip came to an end. One horse was killed, the Indian had his leg broken and the wagon with its load were "smashed into smitherrebs."

John Hongell was sectorally born at John 100.

Jellar Hongell was seriously burt at John Hill-stron's logging camp on Coss river has Priday. While swamping on a hill side a log stovel off by soile men working above rolled down and struck bim and forced him into a suting posters so that his head was bent down to his feet, the log remaining on his neck. Immediately atter the log rolled his men on the hill shouled, but rece ving no answer followed the course taken by the log, and found the autortanate man in the position above, described. The log was promptly removed with the aid of Jack-scrows, and the injured man brought to Marshfald for medical treatment. An examination showed two citle broken, besides some very severe brusses. The log was three feet through and eighteen feet long.

A correspondent writes as follows from tascale Locks, under date of June 20th: Everything quiet here at the Locks. There are only 20 shone cutters at work on the locks. Last white there were 20 men on the pay roll, on account of no appropriation from congress the work is nearly suspended. There have been $900,000 expended thus far. The superintendent of the works, Lieutenant Young, son of the late Brigham Young, of Sail Lake, gives general satisfaction and is a man of ability. In his part of the county the people feet the importance of the opening of the Cotembia river for maignation. The run of salimon is and has been very light, and will probably be the lightest run for years. A fuir amount are being smoked. Grand Opening WILL TAKE PLACE ONE WEEK FROM TOMORROW

Monday, July 18. We wish to recall to the minds of everybedy our previous assertions and promises. We are determined to open a business that will cellipse anything ever seen before. We shall keep such a variety of merchandise that it will appear as if every commodity manufactured is represented in our spacious establishment.

OUR GREAT FEATURE Of prominence will be the LOW PRICES which we will sell our goods at.

This past week we had conclusive evidence that the people are fully give to bargains, for the sale of our Gents' and Boys' fats has been simply enormous.

Our plan will be to operate our business. "BROAD GUAGE AND DOUB TRACK"

We shall continue

With new additions. Our prices are extra-ordinarity low; in fact, less than half the price sold by other dealers in town.

Then he satisfar and removed his shoes, and softly ascended the stairs. When Gus noiselessly opened the hedroom door he chuckled lightly, and patied blusself on the back. Then he undressed and crawled into bed, oh so quistly, and dropped to steep on the bed rail, with the satisfaction of baving fooled his wife In the morning he found and read the following note, and immediately went down stairs and soaked his bead in the sink

One carput truthfully say that the wealthy and well-to-do classes are devoid of kindly imand well-to-do classes are devoid of kindly im-pulses and genume sympathy for the unfortun-ates of earth, but one can safely assert that the poorer people are quicker to respond to muts appeals for belp. Wealth is a great barrier be-tween the hearts of mankind. The well-to-do-man or woman will shed tears of sympathy at the theater, but will sweep by real sorrow and need without a carver of the lu. A few weeks meed without a quiver of the lip. A few weeks meet without a quiver of the fip. A low weeks since the writer was walking with his little, family in the couthern part of the city, when his was a Sub-pay afternoon, surely a lime when one would expect, at least, a faint evidence of the teaching of the morning sermons, yet carriage after carriage rolled by, without the occupants of a single one venturing even to inquire as to the cause of our trouble. All that we received from them were ill-bred stares that only aggrawated out annoyance. Finally a woman came out from a cottage near by, and seeing that help was needed came instantly to our sid. Into her little home we were escorted, and though every article bore the stamp of poverty the jewel of human sympathy was there, and it made the lowly cottage a welcome place of rest and con-kantment. Afterwards I learned her story Ten years ago she had a happy home. Her busband prominent business man of Portland, trusted to her son, who became infatuated with tune, and one sweet morning in summer, just as the rosy flush of dawn was creeping over the Willamette, he walked out from a fare-bank and

FARWELL, B. C., June 21, vin Spokune k-alls—
The summer assizes for the district were held during the past week. at. Farwell, B. C., before Sir Matthew Eigbes, chief Justice of the province of British columbia. The chief case on trial was a charge preferred against William Brown for the murder of a woman maned Mary Furcell. The prisc ner for the past eighteen months has been keeping a saloon at a lonely place, some twenty miles from Farwell on the east side, and had been cubabiling with the deceased Both were of mamporate habits, and they led a regular dog and cat fife, quarrelling continually About the end of May, after one of their periodical orges, the presoner called in Dr. Graham to see the deceased, who had, he said, fallen into the river. The dector found the woman dead, and from the injuries die had received he came to the conclusion that her death was the outcome of foul play. He immediately communicated with Del Rhodes, the chief of police, in the district, and as a result of investigation, the prisoner was arrested. From the evidence given at the trial it would seem that the prisoner quarrelled with the woman and inflicted such injuries upon her that death ensued. He then threw the body into the river and took it out again, hoping thereby to hood wink the officers of the law into the belief that the woman had herself fallen into the river and sustained the outcome contasions which yere upon be body by coming in combact with rocks. The jurge sen lenced him to be banged.

MASSENDER FAALD.

WASHISTON, July 4.—The commissioner of internal revenue has just received ocular proof of an ingenious fraud upon the revenue which has been practiced in Cinclinata. The fraud consists in having two stares of a barrel thick-ened,—the one in which the bunghole is, and the stave, opposite,—while the other slaves are of ordinary thickness. The ganging instrument will consequently measure the capacity of the barrel about two gailous less than the actual contents. One of the largest and westilest firms in the city, it is said, has been discovered practicing this fraud, and the government, by means of it, has lost a large smoont. Yesterlay Commissioner Miller received a telegram from Special Revenue Agent Lafflin at Cincinnati, charging that he bad detected an attempt at fraud in the construction of the barrels of Maddox, Hobart A t.o., and that sixty pack ages bad been detained. The swind of the rpermiting delected in not yet fully known when special agent Lafflin, who made the discovery, reported the fact to Commissioner-Miller, the commissioner telegrap had to Collecter Bishop, to make a seizure at ence. A full investigation has been ordered.

One cannot truthfully say that the wealthy and well-to-do classes are devoid of kindly imand well-to-do classes are devoid of kindly im-pulses and genume sympathy for the unfortun-ates of earth, but one can safely assert that the poorer people are quicker to respond to mute appeals for belp. Wealth is a great barrier be-tween the hearts of mankind. The well-to-do man or woman will shed tears of sympathy at the theater, but will sweep by real sorrow and need without a quiver of the lip. A few weeks the writer was walking with his little, family in the southern part of the city, when he leaching of the morning sermons, yet carriage after carriage rolled by, without the occupants of a single one venturing even to inquire as to the cause of our trouble. All that we received from them were ill-bred stares that only aggrarated our annoyance. Finally a woman came out from a cottage near by, and seeing that help was needed came instantly to our sid. Into her little bome we were secorted, and though every human sympathy was there, and it made the lowly cottage a welcome place of rest and con-Eantment. Afterwards I learned her story Ten years ago she had a happy home. Her husband was a prominent business man of Portland, and was worth $25,000 He took to drink and filled a drunkard's grave inside of two years, but when he died the unfortunate woman was able to save $10,000 out of the wreck. The entire business was entrasted to her son, who became infainated with trambility. The result that followed was that ambling. The result that followed was mev-

FARWELL, B. C., June 27, via Spokene Falls—
The automor assizes for the district were held furing the past week at Farwell, B t, before Sir Matthew Flybes, chief justice of the prov face of British Columbia. The chief case on trial Ince of British Columbia. The chief case on trul was a charge preferred against William Brown for the murder of a woman named Mary Purtell. The prisoner for the past eighteen months has been keeping a saloon at a lonely place, some twenty miles from Farwell on the east side, and had been cohabiting with the deceased Both were of intemporate habits, and they led a regular dog and cat life, quarrelling continually About the end of May, after one of their period call orgics, the prisoner called in Dr Graham to see the deceased, who had, he said, failen late the triver. The doctor found the woman dead, see the deceased, who had, he said, fullen into the river. The doctor found the woman dead, and from the injuries she had received he came to the conclusion that her death was the outcome of four play. He immediately communicated with Del Rhodes, the chief of police, in the district, and as a result of investigation, the prisoner was arrested. From the evidence given at the trial it would seem that the prisoner quarrelled with the worsan and inflicted such injuries upon her that death ensued. He then threw the hody into the river and took it out again, hoping thereby to broowink the officers of the law into the belief that the woman had herself fullen into the river and sustained the numerous contusions which were upon her body by coming in contact with rocks. The jury found the prisoner guilty of murder. The judge sentenced him to be hanged.

AN INGENIOUS FIRAUD.

WASHINGTON, July 4.—The commissioner of internal revenue has just received ocular proof of an ingenious fraud upon the revenue which has been practiced in Unclimati. The fraud consists in having two stayes of a barrel thickneed,—the one in which the bunghole is, and the staye, oppositis,—while the other stayes are of ordinary thicknees. The granging instrument will consequently measure the capacity of the barrel about two galls in less than the axinal contents. One of the largest and weathiest firms in the city, it is said, has been discovaried practicing this fraud, and the government, by means of it, has het a large amount. Yesterday Commissioner Miller received a telegram from Special Revenue Agent I stills at Cincinnati, charging that he had detected an attempt at fraud in the construction of the barrels of Maddox, Hobart 4 to, and that stay packages had been detained. The extent of the operations detected is not yet fully known When special agent Lattin, who made the distorer, reported the fact to Commissioner-Miller, the commissioner telegraphed to Collector Bishep, to make a seizure at once A full investigation has been ordered.
